NIEL SEAL (Formerly TITE-SEAL) GASKET AND JOINT SEALING COMPOUND

Abbey Products, a division of Abbey Color Inc., manufactured TITE-SEAL exclusively for Radiator Specialty Company (RSC) for over twenty years. During this time we did not receive a single rejection or return. When RSC decided to exit the market recently Abbey Products assumed global distribution.

The product is manufactured at the same facility, with the same equipment and raw materials, to the same specifications and with the same quality standards. The only change is the label as we renamed the product from TITE-SEAL to NIEL-SEAL to avoid trade mark infringement.

Abbey Products were never required, or requested, to conduct what would be costly stability studies in order to establish a shelf life, expiration or re-test dates, or date related warranties. Therefore without scientific data to support these statements, we cannot provide them.

However, the policy of Abbey Products is as follows:

1. Any defective product will be replaced if an investigation establishes that lots did not meet our historic conformance/quality standards prior to release.
2. We will provide samples free of charge for any company wishing to conduct their own testing.
3. For any aged product in the possession of a customer, we will be happy to receive samples and retest for conformance, also free of charge.

From this perspective you can continue purchasing Niel-Seal with full confidence.
